Not illustrated. 1820 Excerpt: . . . a tin case, in the form of a barrel, in. which a tube is soldered. The case contains three ounces and a half of gunpowder. The priming in the tube is a composition of aalt-peter, powder, and brimstone. The tin was pitched and wrapped round with rope yarn, which was cemented with rosin and tar. Hound the tin and in the rope-yarn, twelve pieces of iron were planted. From the lighting of the fuse to the explosion might take about half-minute. If one of them were to be exploded in a room where there were a number of persons, it would produce great destruction. The pieces of iron would fly about like bullets. The witness here opened another of the grenades for the satisfaction of the jury: it was composed in the manner already described. The pieces of iron principally consisted of old cart nails, such...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
