This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Diploma Thesis from the year 2007 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: 1,7, European Business School - International University Schloß Reichartshausen Oestrich-Winkel, 70 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: Consumers of the 21st century are better informed, better educated and more familiar with existing technologies than they ever were before. Furthermore, they are more demanding in the products and services that they require. While most organizations claim to be customer-oriented, customers still usually have to adapt to the way a organization works and not vice-versa. Organizations that want to fulfill the increasing demands of their customers need to adjust their business models and realize that the customer needs to be regarded as the pivotal point around which the business revolves. In many markets organizations became aware of this principle and are currently moving away from market and product centrality towards a complete realignment of business processes in order to integrate with customer processes. By creating additional value, new customer-centric business models lead to lasting customer relations. Customer...
